Garbage Assessment Rates Set Tuesday

Cameron city councilmen Tuesday night, January 1, in a regular meeting passed an ordinance regulating garbage disposal within the city. Monthly charges will be placed on residents and business houses for collection of same.

Everyone within the city will be billed regularly for this charge on their water or sewerage bills. Rates as explained in the ordinance are 50 cents for private residences and corresponding higher charges for business houses. Commercial establishments having not more than two 30-gallon containers for daily pickups will be charged two dollars monthly, those with from two to four containers four dollars and others with more than four such containers an additional one dollar for each container but with a minimum of six dollars.

All garbage must be in galvanized containers ranging from 10 to 30 gallons in size. They must have lids that must be kept covered at all times except when garbage or trash is being put into or taken out of the cans. Trash such as tin cans, bottles and paper may be placed in boxes, barrels or other containers but must not weigh in excess of 100 pounds. Tree limbs and pieces of lumber must be cut in four foot lengths or less. All must be placed for pickups in an easily accessible place.

Collections will be made once a week in residential sections and daily except Sundays for business and commercial establishments. Other parties hauling trash or garbage must have a city permit for such business but home owners may haul their own so long as they meet city specifications for transportation of the same. Such persons will still be charged for such pickups on their monthly bills from the city water department.

The ordinance also provides for acquisition of a Hydro E-Z Pack garbage body from the low bidder, the Commercial Body Company, which will be mounted on a Dodge truck to be acquired from Schiller Motors here in Cameron.

City To Extend Street

City Attorney Bill Black was authorized by the council to purchase property for extending South Washington Street between Gillis and Main Streets. Authorization for this move provides for the payment of $400 to the owner of the property in this area for a street 40 feet in width.

Stop Signs

Members of the council also voted to accept the State Highway Department engineers' recommendation of the erection of four stop signs on the highway within the city.

Such signs will be placed on the highway at those intersections at which the city had sought permission from the state for installation of certain traffic lights. The Highway Department will erect the signs. In turn the city agrees to see that enforcement of a law requiring all traffic to come to a dead stop before crossing such intersection.

Teenager Administration

Members of the council also agreed for Cameron teenagers properly identified by March of Dimes arm bands to take over administrative, police and fire department positions next Saturday, January 5.

These youths under a proclamation by Mayor Robert Weems are given authority to give tickets for minor traffic violations (not for overparking) and for possession of fire hazards. All money collected will go into the 1957 March of Dimes fund.

Policemen Resigns

Patrolman Warren McCall, following the decision by the council that they could not grant him a raise, announced his resignation following completion of his patrol duties Tuesday night.

McCall had asked for a $25 monthly increase in pay at the previous council meeting. His pay at the time of his written resignation was $175 monthly. Duties of the resigning officer included five shifts weekly as patrolman, one shift as "on duty" fireman and an "on call" basis 24 hours daily as an assistant fire truck driver.

All members of the council were present at the Tuesday night meeting.

City Councilmen Set Resolution

For the first time since adoption of the current city charter in Cameron, the mayor and the members of the council completed business of their regular meeting Tuesday night, January 1, before midnight.

Mayor Robert Weems announced at opening of the meeting that as a New Year's resolution, he wanted council meetings for this year to be as brief as possible. No comments were made by any of the councilmen at this proposal.

However, Councilmen Roy Griffith, Lincoln Mondrik, Grady Silham, Charles Brady and Clifford Thompson must have been in agreement as all business was completed and the meeting adjourned at 9:40 p.m.

New Interest Rate Effective At Banks

Milam Co. Cattle Herd Being Shipped Via Air Freight

HERD OF PUREBRED SANTA GERTRUDIS bulls which on Monday, January 7, will be transported from the Randle Lake Ranch in Milam County to Guatemala City, Guatemala, that same day. This will be one of the first time an entire small herd of cattle will ever have been transported by air freight from one nation to another. The plane on which they will be loaded will leave Houston during the daylight Monday morning and will have them at their destination before dark on the same day.

Latest methods in transportation are being adopted by Milam County ranchers for movement of cattle with the shipment by air freight of a small herd of purebred Santa Gertrudis bulls next Monday, January 7.

Shipment of the bulls is being made by Randle Lake Ranch, which is a ranching property of the Evans and Wortham cattle interests with home offices in Houston. According to W. Jacoby, foreman of the ranch, the cattle will be loaded into a plane in the daylight Monday morning at a Houston airport and will arrive at their destination, Guatemala City, Guatemala, before the day ends.

Consisting of 15 bulls, the herd is consigned to Dr. Dave Porter at Guatemala City. This shipment is part of a program fast being adopted by ranchers in Latin American nations to improve their herds of livestock.

This shipment was originally scheduled for December 20, 1956, but the air freight line making the run were unable to meet the schedule according to the ranch foreman. The shipment will be one of the first in which an entire herd of cattle has been flown across international borders. One refueling stop will be made during the flight. This will be around noon in Mexico City, Mexico.

Jacoby said weight of the cargo is being limited to 10,000 pounds including animals and stalls which must be installed. At the time of the initially scheduled flight, the animals weighed between 500 and 600 pounds or a total of an estimated 9,000 pounds.

Stalls would take the biggest part of the additional weight difference of 1,000 pounds. Jacoby said he understands these stalls will consist of a two by six beam bolted to the plane's framework and another at the rear to prevent possible shifting of the animals during flight. They will be tied to the beam bolted to the framework.

The animals, all of which were born in the spring of 1956, were halter broken early in December. At the same time they were vaccinated according to international specifications by Dr. Robert M. Tittsworth at a specified number of days before the December 20 shipping date. Changing of this date made it necessary for revaccinations, Dr. Tittsworth said. The vaccinations given were: for tuberculosis, hangs disease, shipping fever and black leg.

He further explained that not only the plane but also the truck used in moving the cattle from the Randle Lake Ranch to the Houston airport would have to be disinfected before loading the bulls.

Jacoby's hardest job in preparing the cattle for shipment, Dr. Tittsworth pointed out, developed with the change of the shipping date. This difficulty is the continued close check to prevent weight gain during the calves' 13-day extension of remaining on the Milam County ranch which would place them in excess of the amount of the plane's maximum capacity. Yet, as of last week Jacoby was accomplishing this while at the same time preventing the calves from losing weight on their cut rations.

According to Max McClaren, county chairman of the current drive, Pruitt has been highly responsible for drives in Milam County having acquired or topped their quota in funds specified in recent years. McClaren says Pruitt, a former county chairman of the drive himself, was instrumental in laying the groundwork not only for previous drives but also for the current one in organization of an efficient and well-rounded campaign.

Other Cameron persons assisting in the present campaign to raise needed funds for the fight against infantile paralysis and who will attend the dinner are Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tunlinson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Mr. and Mrs. James Kahler, the latter of whom is publicity chairman for the county, will also be present.

McClaren also expressed great gratitude to Cameron teenagers, who this week have been assisting in mailing March of Dimes literature to Milam County residents. Preparation of this literature was carried out after two days work at the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church, he said.

Teenagers taking part in this phase of the program were Griffin Barrett, Anna Swift, Barbara Jo Young, Laura Swift, Kay Camp, Myrna Gail Jackson, Charlotte Gay, Judy Sutter, Marilyn Hughes, Lou Ann Thompson, Nita Archer, Eileen Jacks, Rita Reid, Peggy Hightower, Ann Knipp, Darlene Moore, Carol Ann Sanders, Patsy Sanders, Ann Graham, Georgia Graham and Sharon Vick.

The Wee Hours

By Your Police Reporter

Night Patrolman John B. Dodson had only a couple more patrols to make on a recent morning during the holidays before he went off duty at 6 a.m.

Into the police station walked two tired Cameron youths, Charles Matula and Raymond Tepera, and an employee of young Matula's father, Gene Lewis, a colored man. The three had spent a hectic night lost in woods near Milano while coon hunting.

They described their night's hunt to Patrolman Dodson in weary voices. They had been told to follow a certain creek bed which would take them into an area where coons were supposed to be and which would then make a bend and lead them back to their parked pickup.

Somewhere enroute they lost the creek bed. Lewis said he asked the two youths if they were lost once but at that time they denied it. He said young Matula later announced, "You know, I think we are lost." As the night passed on, it grew cold. The youths decided to show the colored man how to build a fire on a damp night by Boy Scout methods. They were unsuccessful. So Lewis then took his handkerchief, set it on fire and adding wood soon had a fire. No comment was made by the youths to this phase of their night.

Crowds In Cameron To Get Surplus Commodities Jan. 2

Crowds were jamming the Milam County storerooms at 114 North Central Avenue in Cameron on early Wednesday morning for portions of the food currently being distributed by the county.

This was the first day that surplus commodities have been distributed within Milam County. Additional distributions will be made today, Friday, Monday and Tuesday to provide food for the estimated 2,500 persons deemed eligible by the regulations controlling disbursement of the food. These regulations are established by the State Welfare Department.

Foodstuff being distributed for January include wheat flour, pinot beans, powdered milk, cheddar cheese, rice and cornmeal. These items will change from month to month according to what is available in Department of Agriculture warehouses.

Being distributed during the period from January 2 through January 8 is a total of 65,000 pounds. This distribution costs the Milam County government for administrative procedure required, warehouse rent, labor and materials needed for necessary repackaging plus 20 cents per person served for each six months the county is included in the program. This 20 cents goes to the Federal Government.

Milam County will also have to pay a possible portion of transportation costs of bringing the food into the county according to County Judge Charles C. Smith. However, he further pointed out that it is likely that the larger part of future shipments of surplus commodities will be delivered free to Cameron.

Judge Smith further pointed out that the actual cost to the county would be partially paid by cities within the county according to a previous agreement between the Commissioners' Court and the Milam municipalities.

The judge said, "Persons other than welfare recipients who believe they are eligible because of personal need are requested to contact either the Welfare Office in their area or the office of the county judge at Cameron for further information."

Various comments were being made throughout Cameron Wednesday morning concerning distribution of this food to the needy of Milam County. There were pro and con arguments in almost every discussion. Several of the leading grocers in the city expressed disapproval of the program as they indicate this free food will greatly affect their sales in future months.

Farmers on the street, however, expressed approval in varied degrees on the basis this disbursement of surplus commodities will tend to keep prices of the products they sell off their farms at higher levels.

Jimmy Markham, student at T.C.U. in Fort Worth, spent the holidays visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Markham.

First Cameron Baby Not Yet Qualified

Cameron's first baby of 1957 has been born but at this time has not qualified for the large list of prizes being given by Cameron merchants.

While the young boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Trdy, have not presented the birth certificate at the Herald office, he is the first child in the city born according to a check made at 2 p.m. Wednesday. He was born in Newton's Hospital at 10:07 a.m. Tuesday, January 1, according to hospital records. Weight at time of birth was eight pounds and eight ounces.

A check with St. Edward Hospital revealed there had been no births there in 1957.

After a further check with doctors and of birth records at the city hall, the child born earliest within the city will be presented with a large number of gifts for himself or his parents.

These gifts include one box of Chux disposal diapers from Duke and Ayres, five dollars in merchandise from Goldfarb's Department Store, a baby's sterling silver spoon from Culpepper's Jewelry and a baby blanket from White Auto Store.

Others are Burris Mosley, Inc., large baby toiletry set, Caperton's Five and Ten, one dozen Birdseye diapers, E. O. Schiller Pharmacy, one Johnson's baby travel kit, The Young Texan

Telephone Busy; Try Other Means

After trying unsuccessfully for a day and a half to telephone the local newspaper only a few blocks away in Georgetown, Mary Elizabeth Fox, director of publicity at Southwestern university, thought it was time for action.

Since the line was always busy every time she tried to call, Miss Fox decided to send a telegram. It said, "Hang up. I wish to talk with you."

She got action.

Rosebud Post Office

Post office quarters in Rosebud have been moved into the remodeled Chernosky Building according to a recent announcement.

Postmaster in Rosebud is J. R. Killgore.

Shop, one receiving wrap; Cameron's "Cleaners, one man's and one woman's suit cleaned and pressed; Magnolia House, dinner to father and mother; Turner's Grocery, three dollars in merchandise; Milam Coffee Shop, one free Mexican dinner to the couple; Sutters Grocery, a dozen cans Heinz baby food; Citizen's Barber Shop, five dollars in cash, and Donner Body Works, balance the wheels and adjust brakes for the family car.

Thus it now appears the youngest of the Trdy family will start off the new year in a fine fashion.

Water District To Be Determined

Milam counties living within the Brushy Creek Watershed are eligible to cast their ballots in the January 8 election to determine whether or not a watershed district will be formed. Citizens of Thorndale are also included in the watershed.

Most of the watershed lies within Williamson County but its eastern limits stretch almost to the Rockdale city limits.

Precinct 6 will be composed of the corporate area of Thorndale and Precinct 7 will include all other sections in Milam County that is affected. Polling place in Precinct 6 will be at the Thorndale City Hall while that of Precinct 7 will be the Thorndale Community Center. Mrs. Carl Lenke will be presiding judge at the Precinct 6 box and Elmo Rodenbeck at the Precinct 7 box.

Voters will pass on three propositions, the first of which is for or against formation of the watershed district. Second is for or against issuance of $5,000 in bonds to cover cost of organizing the district, paying attorneys' fees and making surveys and investigations necessary for securing easements for 57 flood control structures by the Soil Conservation Service.

Final proposition is for determining five directors for the proposed district. Names of R. G. Garrett, John M. Griffith, Carlos C. Parker, Gud Lundelius and C. A. Wuensch will appear on the ballots. They were previously appointed temporary directors by the State Board of Water Engineers. Other names may be written in on the voters' ballots.

According to the Board of Supervisors of the Little River-San Gabriel Soil Conservation District every landowner and operator within the district should give careful study to all provisions and details of the Soil Bank Program.

Only by so doing can he properly evaluate how this program may be used on his farm. Detailed information on this program is available through county ASC offices.

It is the thinking of the board according to Paul Graves, supervisor from Sharp, that the Soil Bank Program offers exceptional advantages and opportunities to a goodly number of farm units of the area. This is particularly true of those farm units that are comprised largely of soils with only average to low capabilities to produce. Phases of the program may be adapted to most units.

Establishment of grassed waterways, revegetation of steep, shallow, poor, or badly eroded soil sites to a permanent grass cover and installing a planned soil improving crop rotation are three practices that may be utilized in drawing up planned courses of action for the land.

It seems to us, Graves says, that the program provides an opportunity to actually carry out some conservation work that has only been dreamed of in the past and has not been made into a reality due to the pressures of finances and needed land use for income producing purposes. We urge you to get the details from your county ASC office. Then see your local Soil Conservation Service technicians for assistance on land most suited for treatment under the program and applicable practice alternatives.

Dry Weather Work

Farmers throughout the Taylor Soil Conservation District are continuing to take advantage of the dry weather to construct terraces to protect their cropland from future soil washing and erosion damage. Terraces can be constructed more economical when the soil is dry and it does not become so packed which facilitates getting the land in good tilth for farming for the next year.

Wilbert Weise, cooperater with the district who lives one and one-half mile north of Thorndale, has recently completed the construction of 1.5 miles of channel type terraces on his farm five miles north of Thorndale.

These terraces were constructed with farm equipment consisting of farm tractor with bulldozer attachment and disc plow.

Channel type terraces are constructed by moving all the dirt from the upper side to form the terrace ridge instead of from both sides.

These terraces will empty into a Bermuda grass waterway that was sodded last spring. In spite of the dry weather the waterway made sufficient grass cover so that terracing could be done this fall. Wilbert has overseeded the Bermuda waterway with Italian rye grass which is up to a good stand to give additional protection to the waterway during the winter and early spring when the Bermuda is dormant.

Plans for 1957

Wilbert is making plans for additional conservation work that he plans to do in 1957. In order to complete the terracing that is needed on this farm another waterway will need to be shaped and sodded. This waterway is being shaped now and will be sodded after the first of the year as soon as moisture and weather conditions become favorable for sodding.

Other conservation practices that Wilbert will carry out on this farm in addition to terracing are contour farming, planting and fertilizing legume cover crops for soil conditioning and for soil improvement and crop residue management.

Wilbert has been a cooperater with the Taylor Soil Conservation District on his home farm where he lives since the spring of 1947 on which he has completed the installation of a complete and coordinated soil and water conservation program for his farms and the installation of the practices by technicians from the Soil Conservation Service work unit office in Rockdale.

Channel Terraces

Walter and Adolph Schwettmann have constructed 9 mile of channel type terraces on the Henry Schwettmann, Sr., farm located about four miles north of Thorndale. These terraces were also constructed with farm equipment consisting of farm tractor with a blade and disc plow.

Those terraces empty into a Bermuda grass waterway that was sodded several years ago. The Schwettmanns are installing the planned conservation practices on this farm progressively over a period of years and are making good progress toward getting a complete conservation program applied on the entire farm.

Other Work

Other district cooperators who have recently completed the construction of terraces on their farms are: W. M. Alcorn, 0.3 mile; Eldee Hengst on the Mrs. Alma Hengst farm 0.4 mile; C. A. Wuenche 0.4 mile; Edwin Richter 1.4 mile who are all located near Thorndale; and W. L. Cain 1.6 mile Thrall.

A. W. Butts, secretary of the board of supervisors for the Taylor District, has reported that district cooperators and other farmers in the area around Rockdale had fertilized and planted over 1,000 acres of small grain legume mixtures this fall with the district drills and fertilizer spreaders. These mixtures have been planted to furnish winter and early spring grazing and for cover and for soil protection.

The district has recently purchased two new combination grain and fertilizer drills for use in this area so that the needs of the farmers in this area for fertilizing and planting of grazing and cover crops can be better taken care of. Anyone desiring to use this equipment will need to contact Butts and make the necessary arrangements for its use.

Preshaped Waterway

Little River - San Gabriel Soil Conservation District cooperater Homer Whitfield, four miles north west of Bartlett, has pre-shaped an existing waterway in preparation for patch sodding with Ber-

Milam Cattle Herds Vaccinations Urged

Milam County farmers are advised by the U. S. Department of Agriculture of federal control of interstate movement of all cattle except steers, spayed heifers and calves.

This action is being taken to curb spread of brucellosis (Bang's disease). It will directly affect every cattleman in Milam County, who has occasion to be involved in interstate shipment of stock.

According to Edgar Hudgins of Hungerford, the federal government will require a certificate of vaccination or a negative blood test of all interstate shipment of cattle except those designated above. He also indicated there may be embargoes from some states. Hudgins, as chairman of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association's health committee, advises the immediate starting of a herd brucellosis vaccination program.

He advises Milam members of the association to carry out a program under which all females between the ages of four and eight months in dairy cattle and four and 12 months in beef cattle must be vaccinated with strain 19 brucellosis vaccine. "The state is furnishing free vaccine," he said, and details can be worked out through Cameron and Milam County veterinarians.

The Cattle Raisers Association official also pointed out that violation of the new rules constitutes a federal offense.

muda grass in the spring to maintain adequate carrying capacity. "Over a period of 20 years this is the first maintenance work necessary on my waterways," says Whitfield, "and in this same period of years, I have never had a terrace to break." A maintainer was used to do the reshaping.

According to Soil Conservation Service personnel in Bartlett, Whitfield has done a very creditable job in terrace and waterway maintenance. He follows a conservation program of cover cropping, crop residue utilization, fertilizing, proper use of pasture, rotation grazing and pasture planting.

Farm Ponds

District Cooperator, Charles B. Starke, has completed construction of a 5078 cubic yard pond on his farm one mile east of Holland.

This pond will furnish permanent livestock water, assuming the soil will hold, and be used in conjunction with Blairs' planned pasture program of proper use, rotation grazing, pasture planting, and fertilizing. The pond has a depth of 20 1/2 feet; a surface of .72 acres; and a storage capacity of 5.9 acre feet. The equivalent of one foot of water over 5.9 acres of land or 1,927,530 gallons.

Soil Conservation Service personnel state that it is one of the better and more permanent type of ponds being constructed by farmers in this area.

Moore Encourages Farmers Here To Re-Set Pecan Trees Soon

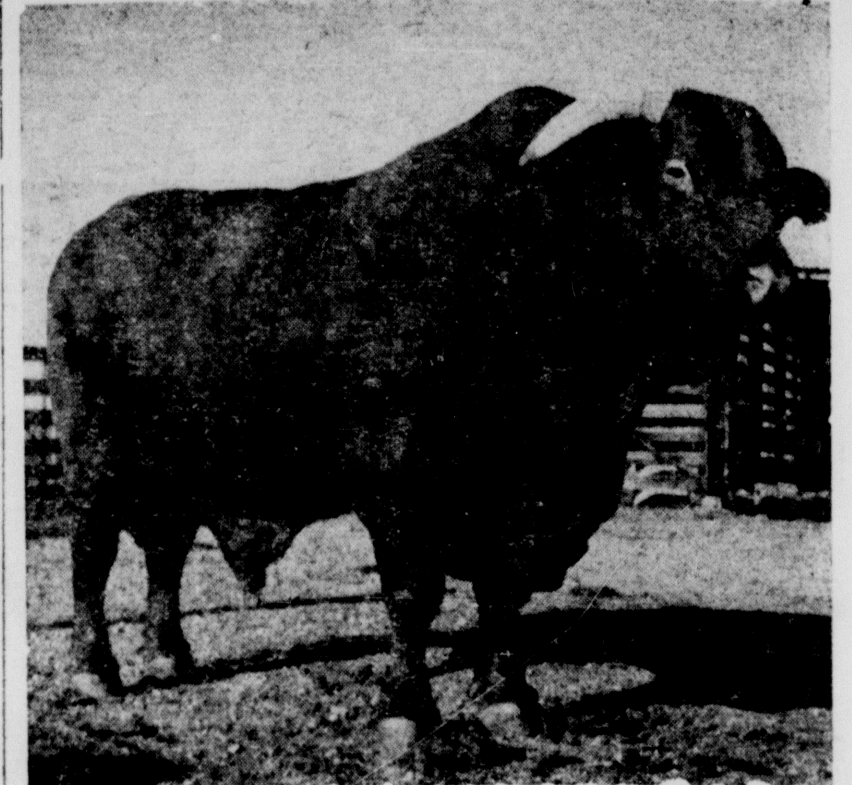

Consumption of tree nuts in the U. S. by 1957 is likely to exceed present supplies, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Along with the rise in consumption, production is also expected to increase.

Population increase alone would insure an annual domestic consumption of over 300,000,000 pounds, shelled basis, by 1957 if per capita consumption of tree nuts remain at the 1955 level. Per capita consumption of tree nuts is expected to increase, however, because of improved marketing methods and increased consumer education concerning use of nuts in main course dishes, as well as in deserts and confections.

Due to the loss of trees as a result of the drouth, never was there a better time to re-set with pecan trees. Milam county residents are encouraged to set out pecan trees this winter according to J. D. Moore, county agent. Characteristics to consider in selecting a variety are individual nut, bearing habits, immunity to scab and the growth habit of the tree.

Briefly, we have found these varieties to be the most dependable; Desirable, Success, Moore and Stuart. Other varieties are popular but not as dependable.

SANTA GERTRUDIS BULL—Original purebred Santa Gertrudis bull acquired by the Randle Lake Ranch in Milam County from originators of this breed of beef cattle, the King Ranch in Kingsville. This animal weighs better than a ton and is only a sample of what Randle Lake bull calves, currently being readied for shipment to Guatemala City, will develop into at their new home. Acquired from the King Ranch between four and a half and five years ago, the above bull is today recognized as one of the leading sires of beef cattle in the world.

Milam Taxpayers Get Return Aid

Plans for assisting Milam County taxpayers in filing 1956 Federal Income Tax returns were announced today by A. P. Andrews of the Internal Revenue Service in Temple.

Assistance to be rendered by the Internal Revenue Service during the filing period from January 1 to April 15 will follow the system used last year. Under this system the taxpayer fills out the form himself, or as much as he can. Assistance, if needed, is available on a group basis, and on an individual basis for those taxpayers who are incapable of preparing their own returns.

Accountants and lawyers in Milam County cities are advised that the necessary forms for filing the 1956 tax returns are available at local Internal Revenue Service offices.

Taxpayer assistance days for Temple are each Monday from 8:15 a.m. to noon.

"If you have to have help," Andrews emphasized, "come on taxpayer assistance days when we will be better able to help you. We will have specially trained personnel available to help taxpayers on these special days."

Jehovah's Witnesses

Set Convention Date

Jehovah's Witnesses will hold their first 1957 convention for the Central Texas area at the National Guard Armory in Lampasas, January 25-27, Cameron presiding minister, Fred Starnes, announced today.

Each year the Witnesses have two such conventions in Central Texas, comprising about a 20-county area, as is practiced in all countries of the world. These assemblies are for the instruction and field training and making a survey of the progress in the area by the Witnesses. Also, an intensified home to home ministerial campaign is carried on in the convention city.

The broiler of your range affords an adventure in cooking that saves time while producing a delectable meal. All you need to add is bread, a salad and dessert and the meal is complete and ready to serve. In broiling, as in all meat cookery, low temperature methods are recommended since experiments prove they give less shrinkage and a more tender product. Broiling may be done by either of two methods—full flame broiling or low-flame broiling. Both provide moderately low temperature broiling and render ideal products. Low-flame broiling takes a longer broiling time, but permits use of oven and broiler at the same time.

It is not absolutely necessary to preheat the broiler compartment, but a few minutes should be added to broiling time if the compartment is not preheated. For most broiling the pan should be placed in the compartment so that top surface of the food is 3 inches from the flame. Fish, however, should be 2 inches from the flame. Thick cuts of pork and chicken should be four inches from the flame.

Full-flame broiling: Preheat broiler compartment 5 minutes with heat control at "B" position. Leave control at this position for complete broiling period.

Low-flame broiling: Preheat broiler compartment 5 minutes. If using oven at same time, set heat control at temperature required for oven cooking. If oven is not in use, set heat control at 350 degrees F.

There's an easy way to clean broiler pans, too. To avoid unnecessary cleaning, preheat the broiler compartment, but do not preheat the broiler pan, for placing cold food on hot metal causes sticking. When broiling is finished remove food and drain all drippings from the pan. Sprinkle the grid and pan generously with soap or detergent and cover with a wet cloth or wet paper towels. Let them stand while the meal is served, then remove the cloth or towels and wash the grid and pan. It is as easy as washing a dish.

For additional information on broiling foods send a postcard to the Home Economics Department Lone Star Gas Company, Room 601 at 301 South Harwood, Dallas 1, Texas.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Broiler Dinner: Place in cold broiler pan one No. 2 can asparagus. Sprinkle asparagus with 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2-teaspoon salt and 1/4-teaspoon pepper. Place grid on pan and place on grid one center slice precooked ham, 1/2-inch thick, with fat slashed to prevent curling. Broil 3 inches from low gas flame 6 minutes. Turn ham slice. Place around ham slice 8 canned or cooked sweet potato halves. Brush sweet potato halves with butter or margarine. Continue broiling 6 minutes. Serves 4. Add lettuce wedges with French dressing, a bread and a dessert of fresh fruit and cookies to complete the meal.

RECENT BRIDE OF RICHARD E. BURKE—The former Miss Barbara Evers became the bride of Richard E. Burke in a double-ring ceremony recently. Following a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Cameron.

Evers-Burke Wedding Ceremony Held In Cameron December 22

Miss Barbara Evers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Evers, Texarkana, Arkansas, became the bride of Richard E. Burke, Saturday night, December 22, at the First Methodist Church, in Cameron.

Rev. E. J. Davis performed the double-ring ceremony. After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Cameron.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Burke of Cameron.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chapel-length gown of white chantilly lace and tulle over satin with a portrait neckline and long lace sleeves coming to points over the hands. A four-cornered lace apron draped over the bouffant skirt. Her finger-tip veil of French illusion, a Jane-E original, was caught to a tiara of satin seeded in design with pearls. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss Sara Couch of Magnolia, Arkansas, was maid of honor. Miss Gwen Rice of Hemphill and Miss Yvonne Linker of Gainesville were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of emerald green crystaletta over taffeta fashioned with portrait necklines and shirred sleeves. They were matching headbands of ostrich feathers and carried bouquets of yellow mums.

Mrs. Hilliard Thomas of Cameron was organist.

Buddy Sipp of Tucumcari, New Mexico, was best man. Paul Burke of Salado, cousin of the groom, and Bill Strzinek of Tyler, were groomsmen. Ushers were Don and Albert Edmonds of Cameron, who also lighted the candles.

Assisting in the house party at the church parlor reception were Mrs. A. M. Turner of San Antonio, Mary Dacy Bradley of Killeen, Adrian Schulz and Dwight Larson of Houston, Paul Burke of Salado and Don Edmonds and Albert Edmonds of Cameron.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Evers chose a mauve lace over taffeta dress with an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a sapphire blue faille dress and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of North Texas State College. The groom attended Southwest State Teachers College and is an employee of the Santa Fe Railroad.

The buffet in the dining room was beautifully decorated with a large potted arrangement of poinsettias trimmed with gold wedding bells and gold balls. The arrangement was flanked with crystal hurricane lamps filled with gold balls.

Others assisting in the dining room were Miss Inez Sanders of Minerva, Mrs. Dwan Bowley of Cameron and Miss Janet and Barbara Lucas of Seattle, Wash.

Cameron Teenagers To Run City Government Saturday

One of Cameron's greatest resources, their teenagers, will take the lead in the March of Dimes fund raising campaign this week.

Headed by teenage chairmen, Make McDermott, Jr., and Kay Camp, 50 teenagers will take over the city government for a day on Saturday. The teenagers, wearing March of Dimes arm bands and carrying March of Dimes coin collectors, will be patrolling Cameron's business district for traffic violators. Small fines, which will be contributed to the local March of Dimes drive, will be assessed offenders.

Make, a Yoe High School Junior, is a member of the basketball team and maintains an "A" average in his studies. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Make McDermott, he has received "Y" awards for participation in Interscholastic League activities, track, tennis and one-act plays.

Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Camp, is a 16-year-old sophomore student at Yoe High School. She is treasurer of the Student Council and organist at the First Presbyterian Church. She is a Rainbow Girl and former member of the Library Club.

Teenagers Against Polio also plan to sell peanuts to Fight Polio at the first district basketball game on January 8 in the Yoe High School gymnasium. All proceeds will go to the March of Dimes.

This local teenage organization has helped also with mailings to county residents.

Teenagers gathered at the Camp home Tuesday evening and completed plans for their participation in the fund-raising drive.

TEENAGE LEADERS MAKE McDermott and Kay Camp examine Mayor Robert Weems' proclamation announcing Saturday, January 5, as "Teen Day" in Cameron. Organized Teenagers Against Polio will take over the city government for the day. All proceeds will be donated to the March of Dimes campaign.

Lucas Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary In Minerva

About 150 friends called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Lucas of Minerva to honor them on their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Sunday, December 23, 1956, from two to five o'clock.

Guests were greeted at the door of their country home by a daughter, Mrs. A. W. McCullin, of Cameron, and their son, Clayton Lucas of Seattle, Washington, who presented them to Mr. and Mrs. Lucas, the honorees on this occasion.

Serving at the guest register during the party hours were Mrs. Denton House of Cameron and Miss Gladys Lucas of Dallas, daughters of the honorees, and Mrs. Clayton Lucas, a daughter-in-law of Seattle.

The Lucas home, which has been remodelled, was beautifully decorated for Christmas and for the Golden Wedding celebration. Outstanding in the decorative scheme was a large gold Christmas tree trimmed in imported gold lights, baubles and strings of beads. The gold theme was carried out in the mantle arrangement with small trees of graduated baubles interspersed with balsam. Also carrying out the gold theme were lovely potted chrysanthemums which had been sent by friends. These were placed throughout the home.

Guests were invited into the dining room by Bob Terry and C. W. Trotter of Minerva and Miss Jimmie Rae Colburn of Cameron. The refreshment table was covered with a beautiful cloth of gold and white satin, centered with an arrangement of gold fruit and flowers, and flanked with gold tapers.

A three-tiered cake of unusual beauty was placed on a large oval-shaped reflector at one end of the table. It was iced in white spun sugar roses and calla lilies. Each tier rested on columns frosted in white and was completely encircled by gold tulle and ornamental frosting.

The punch bowl and all other appointments were of crystal. Mrs. Clayton Lucas, Mrs. John Solomon and Mrs. John Henderson of Cameron served the cake. Pouring were Miss Lucas, Miss Carol Ann Sanders and Mrs. Denton House, the latter two of Cameron. Salted nuts were also offered.

The buffet in the dining room was beautifully decorated with a large potted arrangement of poinsettias trimmed with gold wedding bells and gold balls. The arrangement was flanked with crystal hurricane lamps filled with gold balls.

Others assisting in the dining room were Miss Inez Sanders of Minerva, Mrs. Dwan Bowley of Cameron and Miss Janet and Barbara Lucas of Seattle, Wash.

Relay Station For Cameron...

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company may well be missing an opportunity by not locating a relay station in Cameron.

Cameron today has an estimated population of 7,000 persons and is a trades area for thousands more in nearby Milam County cities, towns and communities. Agricultural production, former mainstay of the county economy, is continuing to increase. Industry is beginning to gain a foothold with the induction of such firms as the Aluminum Company of America near Rockdale and the Walled Lake Door Company in Cameron.

Deposits in Milam County banks today is in excess of $11,000,000, an all time record despite several years of drouth conditions in the area. This fact alone points to a people and an area composed of those with sound business and economic judgement; points to a factor indicating prosperity at the utmost height possible under existing conditions.

Cameron and Milam County people may be a little slow in starting a project. However, when they do, it is based on a complete and accurate study of all situations involved. Results are businesses and enterprises on sound foundations. Cameron firms are those that will last through the years and not ones that are only fly-by-night escapades.

Highways within the county are currently being improved. Railroads are in every section of the area. Manpower for additional industries is available in the area. Farmers and ranchers in the area are fast going into irrigation of their crops and other modern methods of agriculture. Two water control projects are currently being sought within the county. When these projects and the improvements of area farms are completed, there will be an estimated $1,000,000 annual increase in Milam County farm income.

One thing is still greatly needed for a thriving and prosperous county. This thing is the establishment of telephone communications over which a growing economy may carry on operations.

Thus, we urgently recommend that the planning board of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company give careful study of Cameron for a center of their operations in Central Texas. We are certain they will find Cameron ideal as a city in which they too can prosper with a modern relay station with a full complement of operators, linesmen, repair crews and office personnel.

Prosperous Outlook For '57...

Milam County citizens now face the new year, 1957. Despite the drouth of the year just past, outlooks for the county during the forthcoming 12 months are much brighter and indicate a prosperous year for all.

Recent rains in the county have put a greener tint on crops and grass and accounted for some water in many of the tanks on farms and ranches. Possible additional rains and with the Elm Creek and Brushy Creek Water Control and Conservation projects in the offering, moisture outlook for rural areas in the county is definitely improving.

Bank deposits in county banks are the highest in Milam history. Appearance of such crowds at the Cameron All School Carnival and the 1956 Christmas parade indicate our people are still of good heart and cheer.

With such resources and people as are currently in Milam County, a prosperous and happy New Year is indicated for all during 1957.

Allen Dodson Explains Laws Misconceived By Drivers

Allen Dodson, operator of the Cameron Auto Supply Company, this week urged the study and understanding of state and city traffic laws in an effort to cut accident rates in the county and the state as a whole.

Dodson, as spokesman of his business which is a member of the Texas Highway Safety Association, explained to Herald representatives several of the traffic laws about which there are misconceptions.

The past eighteen years experience of the Texas Safety Association reveals that many Texas drivers and pedestrians have misconceptions about traffic laws. Here are seven such misconceptions—how is your score?

The driver on the right always has the right-of-way at an intersection. Not so; Texas law states that the car entering the intersection first has the right-of-way. When two cars approach the intersection from different directions at approximately the same time the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right-of-way to the vehicle on the right.

Pedestrians must yield to cars at intersections where there are no traffic lights. Wrong! The law gives pedestrians the right-of-way, with certain limitations, at all marked crosswalks.

When a school bus stops to pick up or discharge children, you have to stop if you are behind it and traveling in the same direction. This is only partly correct. Texas law requires you to stop in such cases no matter in which direction you are driving.

You don't have to stop on yellow when a traffic signal is changing from green to red. Wrong! The Caution, or yellow light is a signal that the red or Stop signal will be exhibited immediately thereafter and vehicular traffic shall not enter or be crossing the intersection when the red or Stop signal is exhibited.

You can make a turn any time as long as you signal. That's incorrect. To make a turn, you have to be in the proper lane and you are required to signal at least 100 feet before you turn.

You may pass any time you see an opening. Wrong again. Texas law says that you have to give a car coming from the opposite direction at least 100 feet clearance after you have passed. You cannot pass at all when approaching within 100 feet of a bridge, viaduct or tunnel; or traversing an intersection or railroad crossing. The passing laws, of course, contain many other specific limitations.

Drivers must watch out for pedestrians walking on the roadway. This is a good idea, but the law says a pedestrian must walk on the left side of the road or on the left shoulder. It is also illegal to walk in a roadway if a sidewalk is provided.

"DUVAL COUNTY, USA"

This is the first in a series of ten articles by New York newspaper reporters Frederick Hodgson and Franz Rosenwald, who recently spent several weeks in Duval Co. and South Texas, gathering facts for this series.

Ballots, Bullets, Beatings, Booty: That's The Story of Duval County

By-FREDERICK HODGSON

NUEVO LAREDO, MEX.-We, Franz Rosenwald and I, have just been looking over the parking lot where a dark, baby-faced pistolero, Alfredo Cervantes, abandoned his big green automobile, Texas license EL2340, a few hours after he'd killed young Jacob Floyd in Alice, Texas, 86 miles away.

Cervantes must have had a wild ride that night almost four years ago, and his knuckles must have been white on the wheel as he drove onto the Rio Grande bridge from Laredo.

What if the Rangers were ahead of him? What if they'd caught his fellow killer, Mario "The Turk" Sapet, and El Turco had talked?

Cervantes breathed easier perhaps as he recalled that El Turco wouldn't dare talk. The life of El Turco, the braggart, the hired assassin, wouldn't be worth a plugged centavo if he uttered a word that would lead to the men "higher up," or to Cervantes. It was a comforting thought.

The center of the span was nearer now. The two officers there, one American and one Mexican, were talking, paying little attention to the approaching automobile. In a second he was past them. He was in Mexico. He was safe.

Here in Nuevo Laredo Cervantes had a couple of quick tequilas at the International Gardens, Ricky Callione's place, to steady his nerves. Then he paid his three pesos - twenty five cents - and vanished.

And to this day El Turco, now serving 99 years in Huntsville Prison, hasn't talked. He wouldn't live long, even in Huntsville, if he did. And The Turk knows it.

What's all this got to do with Boss George Berham Parr, the tottering Duke of Duval?

The answer, mister, is plenty, but plenty!

Dictatorships, whether they're red as in Russia, black as in Mussolini's Italy, brown as in Hitler's Germany, or red, white and blue as in Parr's Duval, follow the same pattern—ballots, beatings, bullets and booty. The ballots are phony but the others are real. All four figure in the story of Duval County, Texas.

To non-Texans looking in, to observers such as Franz Rosenwald and myself, the political situation in Duval County is utterly fantastic—and frightening. That it can happen here, in America, the home of the free, brings one's thinking up with a jolt.

Dictatorship developed in Duval because the right set of political circumstances existed. And, with Attorney General John Ben Shepperd operating the battering ram, it's now being broken up—because the right set of circumstances exists.

Being outsiders, we are not presuming to point out that circumstances favorable to a cleanup of Duval County could have been brought about any time during the last 50 years, but weren't. Let's just say that the fact that Attorney General Shepperd dared to take on George Parr after 50 years made this series of articles possible.

What if the right set of political circumstances for dictatorship were to come about in other counties, in Texas or anywhere else? Or in whole states? Or even in the entire United States?

That idea isn't intended to be funny. Hitler rose to power because of "the right set of political circumstances." So did old Archie Parr, founder of the dynasty in the Duchy of Duval.

Franz Rosenwald was born and raised in Berlin, and he watched the ridiculous little man with the Charlie Chaplin moustache destroy the Weimar Republic and set up the Third Reich. His personal tragedy under the Hitler terror was great.

Like myself, Rosenwald didn't believe that such a place as Duval County could possibly exist in the Western world, until he came to Texas and saw for himself. Until he talked to little people who had been beaten and ruined, the little people whose names do not appear in the papers. Until he talked to the families of men who had been killed.

Until he talked face to face with one of the killers, a professional murderer, a hired pistolero.

Rosenwald, who has lived under the red shirts and under the brown shirts, and who doesn't like either of them, has written several pieces in this series. And he shows the startling similarity between the methods of Boss Parr and the methods of Hitler's bully boys.

Back in April of this year Rosenwald and I called John Ben Shepperd long distance from New York, and talked about a book, and possibly a motion picture, about the Duval story. Then he sent us a long telegram, reading in part "The Duval story is a sordid one that America should know, not because of what's happened there but to prevent a recurrence anywhere in the country. Our office will cooperate in every way."

Later we met Mr. Shepperd in Atlantic City, New Jersey, and heard him address a session of the National Association of Attorneys General, of which he is president. We were talking in his hotel room when he received word that Boss Parr had "given back" the 55,000-acre Dobie Ranch, a piece of real estate that Parr had bought for himself with Duval County funds.

The Duval story looked pretty grim even from that distance, just how grim we didn't realize until we hopped an airplane to Austin. There we hired an automobile from Avis and covered more than 4,000 miles of South Texas and Mexico and had a good look at the Duval story for ourselves. We weren't prepared for what we saw and heard.

Texans have lived so close to the Duval story for the past half century that it's old hat by now. Sometimes in the papers there is a story about a killing, the story told out of focus, without relation to the background. Or a spot news story about an indictment, a trial, or a sentence—again told out of focus, because that's the way newspapers have to work. Sometimes Boss Parr hits the front pages with a political pronouncement when he endorses a candidate, or damns a candidate, for reasons of his own.

But, by and large, the full story of Duval hasn't been really and fully told, has never been pulled together all in one place and in complete focus so that the whole picture, clear and sharp, can be seen at one time.

That's what Franz Rosenwald and this writer propose to do.

And we'll tell the story in terms of real, live people, the people who, like the men of the Alamo, of San Jacinto, of Goliad, are fighting—and dying—for the right to be free.
